

Copyrights*

1. With the moment of sending the work to the Editors of Didactics of Information Technology an author or authors will transfer to the Editors all copyrights, property rights to the unlimited use in time and manage the publication in the country and abroad in whole or in part both in electronic product and within products including data available through multimedia networks for example the Intranet and the Internet. They are also in the other products by unlimited period of time as separate products or in combination with other products in the fields of usage specified in art. 2 of the copyright, including also in the following fields:
 - a) Recording the work without any quantitative restrictions, by any technique including digital, electronic, photographic, optical, laser, magnetic recording, CD-ROM, DVD,
 - b) Reproducing the work without any quantitative restrictions in any possible technique including reprographic, digital, electronic, photographic, optical, laser, magnetic recording, optical on every device including electronic, magnetic, CD-ROM, DVD and within the on-line system,
 - c) Implementation of the work to the computer's memory and multimedia networks including the Internet, inside networks – the Intranet without any quantitative restrictions as well as transmission of the work within the scope of the above mentioned networks including on-line mode,
 - d) Disseminating of the work including placing on the market in particular electronic products on magnetic, digital or electronic devices. It can be also done in the form of CD-ROM, DVD or within multimedia networks including the Intranet, the Internet in the on-line system, via communication upon request, by lending the work,
 - e) To make the work available to the public in such a way that everyone may access it from a place and at a time individual lychosen by him or her.
 - f) In an unlimited number of editions,
 - g) An author or authors also transfer on to the Editorial office the exclusive right of authorising the execution of dependent copyrights to the development of work including granting consent to the irdrawing up if such an agreement is necessary,
 - h) An author or authors are entitled to use the work or its excerpts in scientific, information, promotional and marketing purposes.
 - i) An author or authors are not entitled to get any remuneration.
2. The author states that:
 - a) is the sole author of the work (a statement of the author about respecting the ethical regulations of scientific publication - (overleaf), protected according to the legal prescriptions under the Act of 4 February 1994 on Copyright and Related Rights Act (Journal of Laws from 2006, No. 99, item 661 with amendments) or have all consents, licences and creator's permissions to the components which have been made by third parties,
 - b) transfers the exclusive right to publish the work to the Editorial office of Dicatics of Information Technology.

.....
City

.....
Date and signature

AUTHOR'S DECLARATION ABOUT KEEP OF ETHICS OF SCIENTIFIC PUBLICATIONS

Author:

Degree, Name and surname:

Workplace and contact information:

Address:

Phone; e-mail:

Title of the article:

.....

.....

.....

I declare, that the article reported to the publication was prepare with the terms of ethics of scientific publications.

.....

City

.....

Date and signature